

'Sustainable' work on A & I hall recognised

Improvements to the Bangalow A & I Hall have been recognised with a merit award in the sustainability category of the Northern Rivers Urban Design Awards.

The improvements, including a backstage upgrade and a water saving project, were made possible through the efforts of the members of the A & I Hall committee, in conjunction with Byron Council.

Committee member, Sue Holm, said the continuing improvement of the hall brought economic rewards to the community and enriched the lives of residents with quality cultural events.

Ms Holm is pictured presenting a copy of the award to Byron Mayor, Cr Jan Barham and Crs Ray Kestle (left) and Richard Staples

